EXPANDING HORIZONS:

A Workshop About Investing Overseas for Minority and Women-Owned Businesses

Organized by the Overseas Private Investment Corporation

As minority and women-owned small businesses grow by participating in the global marketplace, they face unique challenges. Lack of knowledge about government programs available to support overseas investment, the scarcity of private sector capital to pursue opportunities abroad, or concern over political risks in emerging markets can prevent minority and women-owned businesses from expanding overseas. The EXPANDING HORIZONS Workshops will address these concerns by providing participants with an understanding of the programs and resources provided by the Overseas Private Investment Corporation, which is the U.S. government agency responsible for supporting private sector investment in developing countries. This is a unique opportunity to learn about:

- The challenges and opportunities of overseas investment
- U.S. government programs offering assistance to minority and women-owned businesses planning to go global
- Political risk insurance and how it can protect your business
- Accessing capital for your overseas project
- Special opportunities in the renewable energy and clean technology sector
- OPIC's special products for small businesses

Speakers will include senior government officials from OPIC, U.S. Small Business Administration, U.S. Commercial Service, Export-Import Bank of the U.S., and other agencies and representatives from businesses investing overseas who will share their insights and experiences. Networking opportunities will be available and participants will be able to arrange one on one meetings with OPIC officials.
